Mr. Wang
CEO of Ninetowns
Chairman of tootoo.com

The key question faced by international buyers' during the procurement process has always been 'how best to evaluate product quality?' We are seeing that throughout the overall market for made-in-China products, the focus for buyers has changed from a price-oriented outlook to a quality-oriented outlook. As a result, the key success factor behind B2B sales & marketing efforts has evolved from winning through trade opportunities to winning through manufacturing quality. Tootoo.com was expressly designed to meet this new requirement of the B2B market. I am confident that the unique quality-driven position of tootoo.com will allow it to become the first choice and the most effective platform for both Chinese suppliers and international buyers.
